[WoW] Hey Andrew and Ferball...

I'll be on Shadowsong after 6pm tonight. Hit me up and we'll get the guild going.

Folks on Shadowsong, if you see them and not me, let them know if they haven't seen this :)

Someone toss Ross's LJ handle at me so I can add him in, so he can vote. I think he's the only person in the group that's signed the guild charter that isn't on my flist.

On the subject of the guild...

You can discount my answer if you wish. As I'm not part of the guild yet... I voted for purple/white & 2 mugs/flame.

Do you have a character on Shadowsong? If so, what's your handle? If not, why not? *G*

Bah! Stupid full server... It won't let me create a character. What class are we low on? Is there any race that's underrepresented?

We're all congregated around IF and such right now. Mostly low levels. I think we could use a priest. I know we've got a druid, but a healer would be real nice.

Okay, I was starting to make a gnome mage. But I'll make a dwarf priest instead.

My little warlock (Laire) took our guild splitting as a reason to hie off toward those she really hangs with most, so there's one more for us. I'm sure another can be dug up somewhere.

Andrew and I will be on Shadowsong around 630 if you need us to sign the Guild Charter.

That'd be great. I need two more sigs to make it official.

I voted my preferences. But I would be fine with any of the above options.

Dave: It's all right in this instance, of course, but I'd appreciate it if in the future you asked me before giving people my screen names. I value my privacy.

Tirani: I voted in the poll, also. Anyone in the guild who's in their (level) twenties want to do Blackfathom Deeps sometime?

1) Everyone on my list either 1) already knows who you are, and ergo could care less what your contact info is or 2) doesn't give a fuck who you are, and ergo could care less what your contact info is.

2) Sniping in my journal pisses me off. That could have been sent via email. That's your only warning. My journal, my rules.

3) It was a direct request by me, for the purposes of including you. If you don't want to be included, let me know, I'll take you right back off.

4) Every single person on my flist is someone I know and trust in real life. You are the sole expect to that rule. Do the math.

As I said, of course I don't mind in this case. According to Kayla I have met you, and you seemed cool then. My comment wasn't meant as a snipe.

If you want to remove me from the guild over not wanting someone shouting my contact information from the rooftops, then do what you like. I have no problem with you knowing how to contact me. I suggest you read the actual comment next time before you flame someone.

I shall be remaking my warrior into a mage or pally at some point... which would be preferred? She shall be Skada, and she shall be a dwarf.
